games, like women, are supposed to be empty and you fill them up with yourself. if a game has actual "content" that it wants to put inside you, it is trying to spiritually/mentally sodomize you and make you gay. resist this imposition! rape games, do not allow them to rape you!

#Yanggang campaign just sent this out in an email blast to supporters. Powerful policy statement. So controversial, yet so brave.

keep her in a cell and what's more is that I would actually place the key inside with her but put it in a high place. Not extremely high but just ever so slightly out of reach. It would drive her mad. I would dress her like a baby and force feed her 99 cent store baby food. I'd also pick her up like a child and toss her from one corner to the next. I'd grab her by one leg and swing her as hard and as fast as I could then hurl her to see how far she goes. I'd rent one of those giant inflatable bounce houses and body slam her all day until my arms got tired. I'd hold her down with 1 hand and slowly stick things up her butt just to see her squirm. I would stick her in dryers and turn them on and leave her in there for long periods of time. I'd force her to fight other midgets to the death. Just so many things I would do.

One theme of the conversations over the past 24 hours – how deeply familiar this look is. It's the look of white patriarchy, of course, but that familiarity — that banality — is part of what prompts the visceral reaction. This isn't spectacular. It's life in America.

I'm also not particularly concerned with "advertising" consensual sexual sins of clerics who are going to be laicized for those sins because if they are going to be laicized there is going to have to be some Church record of why they are laicized. Seems unavoidable.

John Winthrop @JohnWinthrop9 · Nov 13, 2018

 I REE
 STATEMENT FROM GOVERNOR ANDREW M. CUOMO OFFERING STATE HELP TO AVERT NEW YORK DAILY NEWS LAYOFFS
 "The Daily News, now owned by Tronc, Inc., is apparently firing a major portion of their reporting staff. This will undoubtedly devastate many households and hurt an important New York institution and one of our nation's journalism giants.
 "These layoffs were made without notifying the State or asking for assistance. My father, as Governor, came to the aid of the New York Post when it was facing difficult financial times. Even though the Post represented an opposing active partisan interest, my father understood the value of a robust free press. So do I.
 "I urge Tronc to reconsider this drastic move and stand ready to work with them to avert this disaster. I understand that large corporations often only see profit and dividends as a bottom line. But in New York, we also calculate loss of an important institution, loss of jobs, and the impact on the families affected. I hope Tronc does the same and recalculates its decision. New York State stands ready to help."

 From the perspective of Western Europe, NATO involves voluntary defense spending targets (that they don't meet and there is no mechanism to enforce) and theoretical need to defend US against attack (which will never happen), in exchange for full protection of US defense umbrella.

John Winthrop

@JohnWinthrop9 · Jul 11, 2018
 Western Euros aren't going to pull out. The US has to do it. These problems are US problems, not European ones. They don't care about saving US money, they have good relations with Russia, they don't want responsibility, core Euro defense contractors are very big & tied into NATO

John Winthrop

@JohnWinthrop9 · Jul 11, 2018
 NATO requires the US to fight a nuclear war against Russia that would end human civilization for the sake of Estonia (which is smaller than San Diego), but in the eyes of Europeans, NATO is actually ripping them off by asking them to spend more on their own militaries.

 Indians do qualify for SBA loans. Also Dunkin' is one of the cheapest/low investment threshold major franchises so there is little downside risk. It's the same reason that Indians dominate the motel business. About 1/3 of all motels in the US are owned by someone named Patel.

How many people are locked up in the United States?

The United States locks up more people, per capita, than any other nation. But grappling with why requires us to first consider the many types of correctional facilities and the reasons that 2.3 million people are confined there.

Jordan Peterson is treated like a high brow intellectual by lots of media people but his rapey rants against women are literally the same as posts from the r/Incel subreddit

Violent attacks are what happens when men do not have partners, Mr. Peterson says, and society needs to work to make sure those men are married.

"He was angry at God because women were rejecting him," Mr. Peterson says of the Toronto killer. "The cure for that is enforced monogamy. That's actually why monogamy emerges."

Mr. Peterson does not pause when he says this. Enforced monogamy is, to him, simply a rational solution. Otherwise women will all only go for the most high-status men, he explains, and that couldn't make either gender happy in the end.

Enforced monogamy, Mr. Peterson is vehemently against what he calls "equality of outcomes," or efforts to equalize society. He usually calls them pathological or evil.

He agrees that this is inconsistent. But preventing hordes of single men from violence, he believes, is necessary for the stability of society. Enforced monogamy is the only way to do that.

we need a new law where females are equally distributed among men

This law will not only help tackle the ongoing and ever rising male misogyny epidemic, it will also allow men to select the female of his choice. The female in this instance will not have any say in this matter. Simply because if we were to let them choose whatever men they wanted, they would only go for the attractive looking males. Can't let that happen, of course.

This is why this law needs to be implemented - and by implementing it will save countless of
